10th Since the 10th day of April the Governor issued the following

Proclamation

State of Missouri

Executive Department

City of Jefferson, April 10th 1865

Whereas an earnest of speedy peace to our war distracted country has been given in the recent successes of the nations brave army under the guidance and protection of Almighty God; and for this hope of Peace and the early restoration of the authority of the Constitution and laws of the United States over the whole land, it becomes us to give thanks to the Giver of all good;

Now, therefore, I, Thomas C Fletcher, Governor of the State of Missouri, do hereby earnestly recommend that Saturday, the fifteenth day of April instant, be observed throughout Missouri, by all good citizens, as a day of thanksgiving to God who giveth the victory to Truth and to Justice, that on that day the People, regardless of all differences of opinion in the past, meet in their respective places of worship, and unite in religious exercises; that the evening of the day be marked by large assemblies to be addressed by patriotic speakers; and that candid bonfires, illuminations and resounding salutes of artillery, thus testify their appreciation of the heroism of the Army of the Union in the re-establishment of the national authority in Richmond, the seat of the insurgent power, the capture of the Army of Northern Virginia, and of the manifestation of a disposition on the part of insurgents authority to stay the effusion of the blood of fellow-men.

In testimony whereof, I, Thomas C Fletcher, Governor aforesaid have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Missouri.

Done in the City of Jefferson this tenth day of April in

The Governor issued the following Proclamation:

The State of Missouri —

By the Governor

Proclamation.

The coming month will close a year memorable in the annals of our country, and full of rich blessings, for which we should appropriately acknowledge our indebtedness to the Providence of God.

The nation has triumphed in a struggle for its existence. The oppressed have been given liberty. The hallowed scenes of peace have succeeded the horrors of civil war, and while we mourn our dead heroes the living ones are returned to us. —

Abundant harvests have crowned the husbandman's labors. The privileges of education and the benign influences of Christianity have been continued; progress has been made in art and science; we have been exempt from mortal plagues; prosperity has blessed the marts of commerce; we are at peace with all the world, and the future is replete with promises as the present with blessings.

Desiring to perpetuate the good customs of our fathers, I hereby designate

Thursday, the seventh day of December next, to be observed in the State of Missouri as a day of public thanksgiving and devout remembrance. I recommend that the people abandon for the day their usual avocations, and assembling in their places of worship, engage in such religious solemnities as to them shall seem expressive of the feelings of grateful hearts and while we thus recognize and acknowledge the goodness of God and render thanks and praise, let us not forget to share our abundance with the widows and orphans and homeless bear gratitude for the nation's sake. —

In testimony whereof, I, Thomas C. —1866—

The Governor issued the following

Proclamation:

In view of our daily dependence for every blessing of life upon an overruling and all-wise Providence and of the innumerable ills and calamities that ever beset our pathways as individuals, States and nations, it is a high and sacred duty to humble ourselves, from time to time, and while acknowledging our unworthiness and our obligations to the Supreme Being, invoke his forgiveness and continued favor.

A fearful pestilence is raging in other lands and may soon be spread among our own people. From this, as well as from all civil dangers and troubles, it becomes us to supplicate that we be spared by the averting hand that guided the children of Israel through the Red Sea into the Promised Land, and that hath at all times led and protected those nations that forget not God.

Therefore I, George Smith, acting Governor of the State of Missouri, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of April instant, as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer; and I recommend to the people of this commonwealth, that on that day, dispensing with their usual secular avocations, they unite together in their accustomed places of public worship, and in humiliation of soul and contrition of spirit, acknowledge our manifold sins and transgressions as a people, implore the mercy of Almighty God, and ask a continuance from Him of the temporal blessings hitherto vouchsafed us; invoke for the constituted authorities of the land such direction as will inspire acts calculated to secure to every person within the limits of our common country the enjoyment of the blessings of liberty and the guarantees of impartial justice; beseech that war, pestilence and famines may be turned from us; entreat that our people may be endowed with the spirit of strict obedience to law, in order that fraternal feeling may be restored, and peace and quiet reign throughout the land; and especially supplicate the Divine favor in behalf of the widows and orphans whom the calamities of a long civil war have left desolate.

In Testimony Whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Missouri:

Done at the City of Jefferson, this twenty-sixth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, of the Independence of the United States the Ninety-fourth, and of the State of Missouri the Forty-sixth.

August 16th 1866

Whereas The good order and continued prosperity of the State are dependant upon the co-operation of law-abiding citizens of all divisions of political opinion; and

3. 7. All good men, of all parties, who love peace and desire the prosperity and happiness of the people of the State, are invited and earnestly urged, to aid the constituted authorities in maintaining good order and in the enforcement of all the laws for the protection of the good and the punishment of evil-doers, and for that purpose they are entreated to communicate direct to the Governor all violations of law, all dereliction of duty on the part of officers, and all instances of neglect or refusal on the part of the people of any community to respond to the call of civil officers. And the People are besought to seek their own good in a total disregard of the malicious and reckless utterances of unauthorized and irresponsible persons who are striving to encourage resistance to the laws of the State and to excite public apprehension of danger to the constitutional rights of the citizens of the State by misrepresentations of the intentions, powers and duties of the national and State Executives. Thus we may preserve the blessing of peace which we in Missouri are by sad experiences so well prepared to appreciate and may go on to augment the unexampled prosperity we are now enjoying as a State.

12th " The Governor issued the following Proclamation:

To the Citizens of Lafayette and Jackson counties:

Whereas it became satisfied that the ordinary process of law cannot be executed in your counties, and that a sufficient force will not respond to the call of an officer for that purpose, I have by authority of the act of the General Assembly of the 14th March 1866, entitled "An act to provide for the enforcement of the civil laws", &c. called into active service twenty-four companies of cavalry and ten companies of infantry, for duty in the counties of Lafayette and Jackson, which counties will be required to raise by taxation the amount necessary to pay said force.

Whereas I am satisfied that the people of the counties named will enforce the laws against all men who have violated it as they can and ought to do, and should by their support of civil authority, give the usual legal protection to the law-abiding citizens, and teach evil-doers a proper fear of the punishments of the laws, the troops ordered there will be withdrawn.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Missouri:
